

AMY &
ANTONY

Dear Birth Mother,

We want to thank you for the precious gift you are giving us by considering us as parents for your child. We understand this is a difficult time for you, as we have gone through difficult times ourselves, from failed fertility treatments and the loss of our own child.

We know the decision of finding the right family for your baby through adoption is important and we want you to know we will love, nurture, and cherish him or her unconditionally, and provide every opportunity we can to him or her to become the best they can be.

We will help them follow their passion and ensure they know how to laugh and cry, be happy and sad, and to embrace life to its fullest every day. We hope once you get to know us you will feel comfortable and secure, and that this will help you make the right decision for yourself and your child.

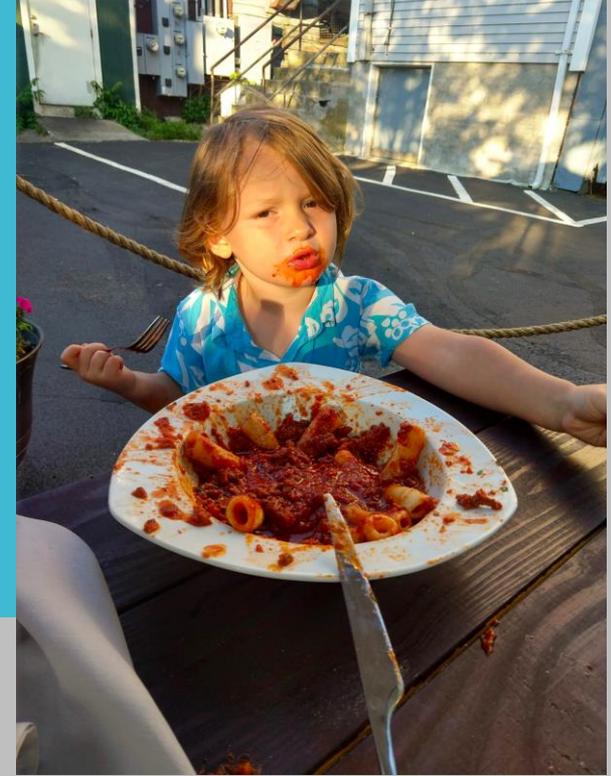

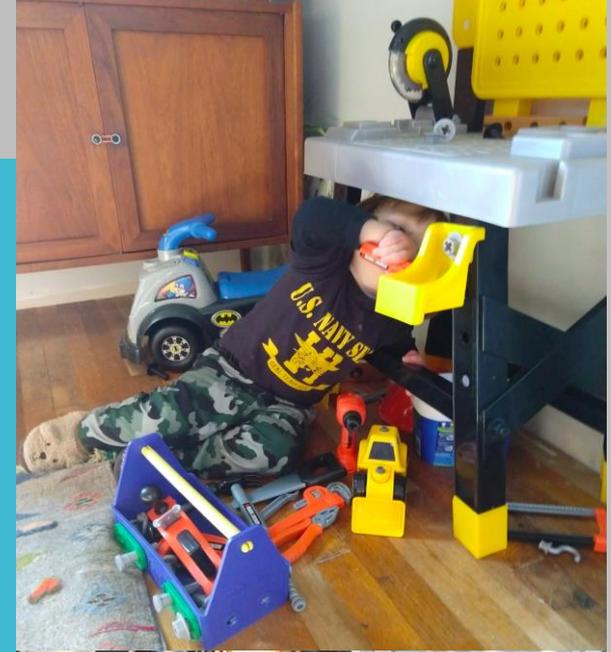

While we have a truly wonderful life, our inability to conceive children together left a void we both knew needed to be fulfilled.

We were lucky enough to be able to adopt our son James who has brought us joy beyond words. We are now looking forward to taking the next step to providing him with a sibling who he asks about often and will describe to you in great detail if asked (he's already even got a name picked out).

We are excited, scared and elated to have the opportunity to provide a loving and happy home to another child that we can raise to become a wonderful person and part of our family. We can't wait to add a new little one to the amazing mix that is our life!!!

James

James was born in KY in 2016. He is a smart, funny, little guy who everyone says has a heart of gold and an extraordinary imagination. He is one of everyone's favorites in school and always gets a lot of hugs and high fives when he arrives. He has brought us joy beyond words and is very excited to become a big brother!

Antony

I was born in England and joined the Army Medical Corps after high school. I am currently self employed in the construction industry and have the flexibility to work from home when needed. I love being able to take care of James in ways most fathers never have the opportunity to do, and I look forward to doing the same with our next child.

I was born in Indiana and am the eldest of two children. I completed law school and currently work for the US Government. While I am the one with the 9 to 5 type job, words cannot describe how much I love being a mom and how excited I am to get home each day to be with my family.

Amy

Christopher

Christopher, Antony's son from a previous marriage, passed away from cancer in February of 2016.

We were very close with Christopher even though he was in England most of the time. We typically saw him at least once or twice each year, if not more. He usually spent summers with us and when we talked to him about adding a new child to our family, he was very excited about having another brother or sister.

He even helped pick out some names. Christopher's memory is an important part of our family and James already knows many stories about him.

Blue

We also have an adopted dog who has turned out to be a wonderful member of our family!

He is a loving, caring, and loyal companion. He enjoys competing in agility, going on family walks, and sleeping at the end of James' bed.

We have great friends from places we have lived in the past and love to have them visit and love to visit them. They have all been very supportive throughout this process and are so excited we are going to have the opportunity to be parents again soon.

FRIENDS

We are also lucky to have amazing neighbors and have a blast spending time with them. Our neighborhood includes people from all over the world and the USA, making it truly diverse. What really makes it amazing is how close we all are. While not everyone has children in their homes, there are children constantly in and out of everyone's houses. We just knew that our neighborhood would be a great place to raise a family!!!

FAMILY

Something that is extremely important to us is our family. We are very close with our families and always make sure that even if they live far away from us, that we maintain a close relationship with as many of them as possible.

THANK YOU FOR GETTING TO KNOW
US.

~AMY, ANTONY,
JAMES & BLUE

