

Elias & Vicky

Dear Birth Mother,

We know that it's impossible to convey what you need to hear in this format: that your child will be loved endlessly, and they will know a place in the world that's full of peace and contentment with our family.

We want to thank you for your attention and consideration, and we want you to know that we envision a life of acceptance, patience, and unconditional love for our future child.

We can only imagine how difficult the decision you're facing is, and we hope we can offer you some peace of mind that we come to adoption from a place of openness and compassion—for you, for our future child, for the world in which they will grow up. We want to watch our child flourish, and we've built a life and a community that can set them up for the warmest and brightest possible future.

The world can be a place full of unknowns, and we don't always know what lies ahead—for any of us. What we can promise you is a home full of love and stability and unwavering support for your child, always, no matter what. Thank you again for taking the time to get to know us better. We can't wait to make a connection with you.

Our friends are a big part of our lives and are more like family.

We met through a mutual friend, and we got married in 2019.

We love to travel!

Vicky and I plan and try to do couple of trips this year...

but Paris is my favorite city since it has all the elements to enjoy a short break.

VICKY

I was born and raised in Beirut-Lebanon and lived there until we moved to Massachusetts to reunite with Elias. I was a financial consultant for more than 7 years before becoming a private chef.... I truly enjoy cooking and creating recipes from my own kitchen.

I adore reading books from different genres. Theater is my core passion and hobby. I have traveled to many countries in quest for international performances.

I love life with all it's ups and downs, I cherish meeting/connecting with people from different ethnicities and backgrounds. I believe in the goodness of others and my life-time friendships shaped who I am today.

Elias tell me that my child-like spirit, sense of humor and constant smile are just a few of the things he loves most about me

Elias

I was born in Beirut-Lebanon but moved to Canada at the age of 18 for college. I am a techie guy who works for an international Pharmaceutical company.

I love outdoor activities , especially hiking with Vicky. We enjoy taking our bikes around the city while listening to music. Soccer is my passion, and I am always either watching or playing.

Organizing and planning for shows and events with our friends is something I enjoy, but I have an interest in photography as well. I enjoy helping Vicky display her food profiles and recipes. I am her "best" food criticwho doesn't love food?

Organizing and planning for shows and events with our friends is something I enjoy also.

Family & Friends

We both come from families of many children, that have given us a loving and supportive community to grow up in. We are surrounded by many friends with whom we enjoy our get-togethers, and typically have some over for dinner about once a week.

One of our best friends is a mother of two. She lives close by. She has proven to be an excellent "auntie" and she is looking forward to including more children to our outings

Home Sweet Home

Our home is full of love and warmth, and we have worked hard to make it a cozy and warm place. We recently bought a home in a beautiful town in Massachusetts known for its universities, as well as high-level private and public schools. We live in a neighborhood that is walking distance from parks and trails. It is filled with families and children. There is a Montessori school around the corner..... just a 3-minute walk!

We chose our town because it is beautiful, with lots of activities for children and parks. It is an incredibly safe as well,

We want to thank you for your attention and consideration, and we want you to know that we envision a life of acceptance, patience, and unconditional love for our future child.

With love and smiles,

Vicky & Elias
